2040 is a more upbeat take on the climate crisis. What positive messages did you take away from the film?

The film is all about problem solving. Pick your favourite solution featured in the film. Explain what it is, what problem it solves and why you like it.
Inspired by the Film

The film jumps between the present day and an imagined version of 2040, when the director’s young daughter is now a young woman. Why was this a clever thing for the director to do and what could you imagine from seeing this version of 2040?

What would your ideal 2040 look like?
